Probable Developments in Yugoslavia and the Likelihood of Attack Upon Yugoslavia Through 1952. (NIE-29/2)

2. Action: After discussion, especially of paragraphs 4 and 8, the Conclusions were approved, leaving the IAC representatives to agree on specific word changes and to modify the Discussion section as necessary.

Analysis of Soviet Industrial Vulnerabilities Affecting War Potential.

3. It was agreed that in view of other projects of a similar character now underway it is not practical to develop the proposed estimate at least until after March 1952.

released (DEC) ? (29 Dec 51)
NIE 60Probable Developments in Southeast Asia.

7. Action: It was agreed that the members will consider whether a re-examination of the Indochina estimate is now in order, and that the Watch Committee will continue to keep developments in Burma under close examination. It was felt that any new estimate in this area should probably comprehend the whole of Southeast Asia rather than any single portion thereof.

8. Discussion: It was noted that U. S. and British views are generally in accord on the major points in estimates on this area as well as elsewhere. General Smith suggested that all IAC members should read for their personal edification the report which Colonel Betts regularly makes to him. CIA will see that they receive copies for this purpose.

Coordination with the British on Estimates

9. Discussion: In view of the present generous British attitude which takes U. S. representatives very much into their confidence, it was considered inadvisable to diminish in any degree the coordination which now takes place with the British in the preparation of U. S. estimates. It was noted on the other hand that, even though the British might exert more pressure for the U. S. to match their generosity, we would be unable materially to extend the degree of cooperation.

Continuance of U. S. Intelligence Activities Prior and Subsequent to the Ratification of the Japanese
Peace Treaty. (IAC-D-34/1)

10. Action: The recommendations contained in IAC-D-34/1 were approved.

Soviet Defense Capabilities.
(NIE-60)released in E.O. review (DEC)
NIE 60 (30 Apr 52) Civil Defense in the USSR

11. Action: In view of the need to make use of all sources in this estimate it was agreed to change the designation of NIE-60 for the purposes of production, with sanitization to be undertaken later if possible. For the present the number of the estimate will not be changed.

12. Action: It was agreed that if anticipated divergences in the semi-annual report were not bridged when the results of the third Soviet atomic test are available, a panel of acceptable outside authorities would be asked to review the facts and assist the IAC in arriving at its report. It was further agreed that CIA would notify Congress of the expected delay.
